Dear Visitor

Welcome to Inseipark

Inseipark is Hamburg's most innovative and most international city park. It has lots to offer for people enjoying nature and gardens or partaking in outdoor sports.

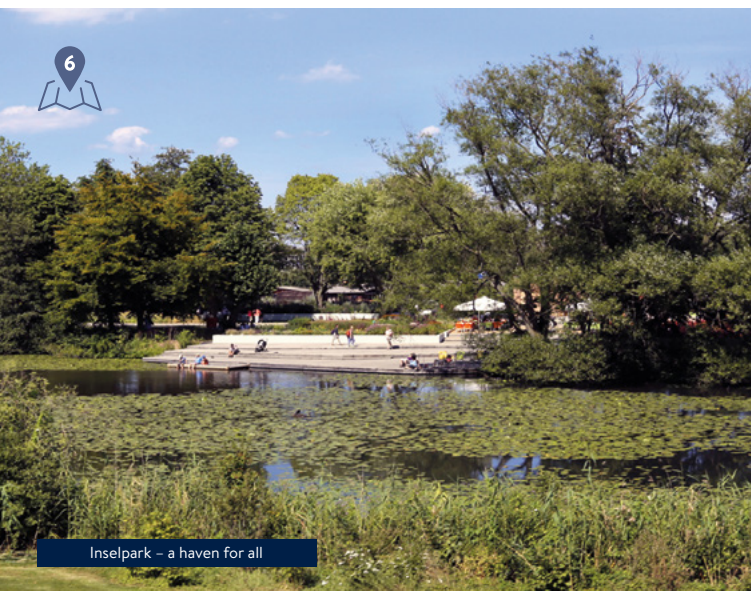

The park is located in the borough of Hamburg-Wilhelmsburg, a large river island just south of the city centre, and is easily accessible by public transport. The borough offers a unique mix of calming greenery and international flair, with people from over 100 different nations living together.

The park was created by the international garden show 2013 (igs 2013). In 2014 the exhibition area was handed over to the city district, a park management was established and Inseipark was born.

Today the city park is a much loved attraction for people living in the neighbourhood and visitors from all over Hamburg as well as further afield. We welcome people of all ages, abilities, cultural and economic backgrounds and religious views.

The park skilfully combines natural areas such as wild-flower meadows, home to humming bees and buzzing insects, with beautiful gardens where flowers blossom in many different colours throughout the year (Boulevard of Roses, Rhododendron Garden, Floral Boats). It provides refuge to over 35 species of birds and offers a rich biodiversity of native plants, some of them endangered. Over 4000 trees contribute to providing fresh air to the residents of our growing city.

With lots of indoor and outdoor options, Inseipark also is the perfect spot for people following an active lifestyle: exercise your muscles at our open air gym, rent a canoe and explore the park's lakes and canals, have a go at disc golf or join the many runners, walkers and cyclists enjoying the open air. Each of our five playgrounds offers a unique design and type of play to keep our youngest visitors busy for hours.

Boulevard of Roses

Boulevard of Roses

A spectacular garden featuring roses mixed with herbaceous plants to create rich seasonal flowerbeds surrounded by heavenly scents.

With over 200 different varieties of roses, the garden is one of the most diverse rose gardens in Hamburg.

The best time to experience the roses is late spring to early summer.

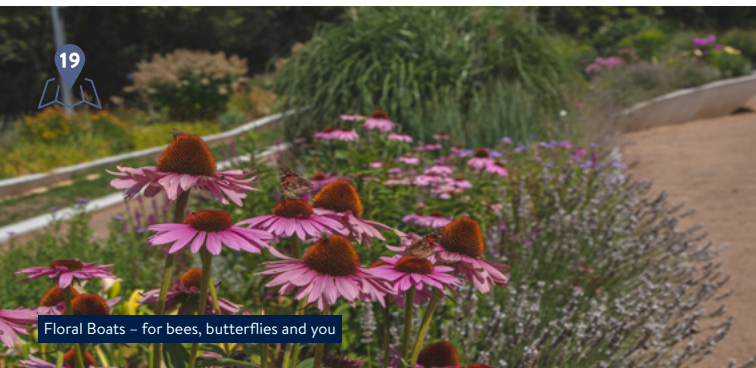

Rhododendron Garden

Located at the main entrance, this former cemetery is now a little world of its own. Sit down on one of the benches and enjoy the many rhododendrons and azaleas blooming in nearly every colour of the rainbow.

The best time to visit the garden is May and June although some trees and bushes flower as soon as March and there is something of interest until late autumn.

Floral Boats

The Floral Boats allow visitors to admire their floral load on eye level. Tulips and hyacinths, catmint, lavender and thimbleweed. Every season has its own charm.

Floral Boats – for bees, butterflies and you

Kitchen Garden

Radishes, raspberries, chives and spearmint... This garden follows a “pick and go” philosophy. Taste some fruity strawberries or pick some fresh herbs for your salad - everything is planted to be enjoyed by the visitors.

Park of the United Nations

Japanese Elm, Chilean Araucaria and Caucasian Walnut - this garden pays tribute to Hamburg’s international flair. It features thirty different trees, all sponsored by consulates located in the city.

Loki Schmidt-Garden

Hannelore „Loki“ Schmidt (1919 - 2010) was a German environmentalist. She established the Flower of the Year campaign, a public awareness campaign to raise awareness for the protection of endangered wildflowers in Germany. In cooperation with the Loki Schmidt Foundation endangered wildflowers such as cowslip and garden speedwell are given a new home in this little garden.
